

FRIDAY 28 & SATURDAY 29 FEBRUARY THE STOVE NETWORK & THE RAILWAY CLUB, DUMFRIES

From 2.30pm (afternoon sessions), from 7.00pm (evening sessions)

Just Start Here is a two-day festival of performance, music and discussion from Scottish artists, taking over shop-fronts, working men's clubs and the streets of Dumfries this February.

Each day is split into afternoon and evening sessions with different events taking place in each of the four sessions.

Tickets for the afternoon and evening sessions are £5 each (£4 concessions). A full timetable is included on the next page.

Afternoons are focused on discussions with professional artists around the industry and experience. Pop up performances will take place and there will be another discussion along with a free meal as part of Chow & Chat. The meal is vegan and gluten-free, and is included in the ticket price.

Evenings are about performance, starting with a promenade performance that involves walking to The Oven, and then to the Railway Club for the rest of the night.

The evening session has a gig-like atmosphere featuring work-in-progress and scratch performances of theatre, dance and performance art, as well as live music and a DJ throughout the evening.

All daytime events will be taking place in The Stove, all evening events will start at the Stove Network at 7.00pm and will include a walking section that ends at The Railway Club.

Just Start Here is a festival of new work and Scottish artists.

A two-day festival of bold new work, taking over shop-fronts, working men's clubs and the streets of Dumfries this February.

At Just Start Here, dive into innovative work-in-progress performances, dance, music and cross art form experimentation.

In the daytime find provocative talks and intimate performances, a bite to eat and ideas to mull over. Or come at night for performances, live music, conversation and the energy and connection of experiencing something together now, in the live moment.

A celebration, a party and a unique chance to see the artists and theatre-makers of today, Just Start Here is the beginning of something.
